To Whom It May Concern:

It is my pleasure to write this letter recommendation for Camee Faulk. Camee is currently serving as my Drama teacher and is doing a fantastic job. I have, on multiple occasions observed Camee teaching and leading in multiple learning levels of her students. Camee also is a part of a strong performing arts PLC, creating a high functioning and engaging atmosphere.

Camee has outstanding organizational and leadership skills both in and out of the classroom. Her leadership skills, I believe comes as a result for her genuine love for her students and her teaching profession. As our Drama Director, she is able to lead and manage 150 students with our musicals.

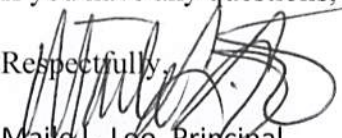

Recently, she directed Disney's "The Little Mermaid". Under her direction and leadership, the singing was great, the student actors superb, the costumes were colorful and bright, and the choreography brilliant and well executed. In one of the scenes, after the shipwreck, Ariel rescued Prince Eric, Camee chose to use a flying company to fly Ariel. It was breathtaking. This was truly a magical moment for the audience.

As a teacher, Camee communicates clearly and accurately her expectations to her students. She continues to establish high measurable expectations for all students and educators alike. She sets and maintains direction and is careful to solicit all necessary information before making tough decisions. Camee is also a problem solver and works to resolve issues in a respectable and caring manner. In any case, Camee considers alternatives for each student and situation and is careful to deal with each situation independent of each other.

Camee is driven and passionate about what she does, and she always airs on, what is best for students. She continues to be involved in many facets of our school and works daily building relationships with each staff member. Camee is a teacher I would re-hire if the opportunity arose. Any school or district would be fortunate to have her on staff.
